Ike Asks Extension Of Draft, Pay Hikes For 'Career' GIs

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today asked Congress to extend the draft law four years, grant pay increases to "career" servicemen and create a powerful military reserve to deal with any "aggressor so criminally unwise as to attempt an atomic attack."

The President set out the administration's military manpower program in two special messages to the lawmakers, saying the measures he proposed would give this country the "proper military posture" for the first time in peacetime.

One way, the proposed increases only for men willing to serve longer than a minimum time, saying it is necessary to maintain "the experienced hard core of a modern fighting force."

Calling for a "selective" rise, Eisenhower said there should be no increase for officers in the first three years of their service and none in the first two years for enlisted men.

This would mean no pay rise for two-year draftees or for young reserve officers putting in only their obligated time.

The Presidet described them in his State of the Union message a week ago as "cornerstones" of his program to assure an adequate defense until the threat of aggression has disappeared.

Includes Pay Raises

He proposes a plan which includes pay raises ranging up to about 16 per cent, and measures to promote the welfare of servicemen and their families.

A second message was expected to ask an extension of the 24-month service draft and provisions for a trained and ready-to-fight civilian reserve of three million men, with an additional two-million-man pool of prior servicemen to back then up in time of all-out war.

Broad outlines of the program already have been disclosed by Pentagon officials.

The pay raise for regulars would go to nobody with less than two years active duty and is designed to make it unprofitable for any man to stay in uniform if he fails to win promotion within a reasonable time. But the program is designed to hold on to both officers and enlisted men who show promise at periods in their service when they might be most tempted to get out of uniform. Thus lieutenants and captains would get raises after two years' service, instead of waiting until after four years as at present.

Broadens Medical Care

The career incentive plan also would include provisions to broaden and extend medical care for servicemen's families, assure better housing for dependents, revise death benefits and extend the Old Age and Survivor Insurance provisions of social security to military men.

The draft extension and the plan to build up a ready reserve of

Fire Loss Here Increased In '54

Man Killed; Damages Totaled Over $48,000

Fires here during 1954 accounted for one death and property losses totaling $48,484.78 Fire Chief Clarence Wright reported today.

The figure represents an increase of $36,467.78 over the $12,017 loss recorded in 1953.

Last year's worst fire occurred July 15 at the Levi Fox fur storage barn on N. Ellsworth Ave. where a night watchman, Olin Keller, was burned to death.

Damage to the building, which was destroyed, and to the contents totaled $29,000, Wright said.

According to Wright, the year's two other bad fires were the $12,000 fire that swept the Roumanian Hall, 377 S. Ellsworth Ave., Oct. 6 and the $6,400 blaze at the George Trisler home, 1121 Franklin St., Jan. 21. Coupled with the Fox fire, the three represented a total loss of $47,400.

According to Chief Wright, the total loss for the year was broken down into $29,334.78 on buildings and $19,150 on contents. Total valuation of the buildings and contents was $865,700 — $468,500, buildings and $397,200 contents.

Wright said that during the year his department answered 181 calls, compared with 236 during 1953. Of 1954's calls, 26 were in Perry Township, five in Salem Township, two in Goshen and one in Greenford.

In combating the blazes, 2,750 feet of two and a half inch hose were used, 2,400 feet of one and a half inch and 19,750 feet of three-quarter inch hose.

City Council last year authorized the addition of two new firemen to the department, increasing the complement to 13. Added were Firemen Harry Lodge and Harold Pike.

E. Furnace, Workers Begin Contract Talks

Electric Furnace Co. officials and representatives of Local 3406, United Steelworkers of America, met this morning to begin contract negotiations almost a month after the 77-day strike at the plant ended.

Terminated by a back-to-work agreement which is expected to be the basis for today's negotiations, the strike began at midnight Sept. 30 when the union refused to renew the contract which expired. At the time, the union was asking for wage and fringe benefit increases granted by the basic steel industries.

Company officials said that they could not afford such an increase which they declared would amount to 14½ cents an hour.

Following repeated negotiations conducted by the Federal Mediation Service and Mayor Dean B. Cranmer, the 120 operational workers returned to work for what amounted to a minimum of five-cent-an-hour increase.

Under the agreement the workers received an insurance and pension package comparable to that granted by the basic steel industries and an improved hospitalization program.

Police Chief Favors Parking Meter Holiday

Police Chief George Earley declared today that it was his opinion that parking meters downtown should not be in operation either Friday or Saturday nights for some time.

He declared, "Salem's merchants uncomplainingly suffered loss of business while repairs to State St. were going on and it would be a fine gesture on the city's part if it gave a boost to the merchans now by permitting free parking for a period during Friday and Saturday nights."

The police chief declared the loss of revenue to the city would not be high if the meters were idle on those nights.

Salem merchants are staying open Friday nights now instead of Saturdays. A number of cars have been ticketed on Saturday nights because of existing city ordinance which has not been changed.

2 Hurt, Truck Burns In Road Accidents

Two area traffic mishaps were reported to state highway patrolmen yesterday and this morning.

Cars driven by Robert Orcutt, 36, of Niles and Arthur Rudebock, 36, of RD 1, Leetonia collided at the intersection of the Leetonia-Lisbon Road and Worman Road at 5:05 p.m.

Rudebock sustained a concussion and lacerations of the head and was admitted to Salem City Hospital. Orcutt received a possible fracture of the kneecap and abrasions. He was treated at the hospital and released.

A truck-trailer hauling a load of coal overturned in a ditch and caught fire at 4:05 a.m. today on Route 165, just east of its junction with Route 14.

Patrolmen said the truck, driven by Peter Morris, 25, of Youngstown was following another truck-trailer operated by Ernest Cozza, 38, of RD 3, Salem, when Cozza slowed down for a third truck stalled on a hill.

The Morris vehicle bumped the rear of Cozza's truck, and then went into the ditch. The tractor part of the vehicle was destroyed. Loss was estimated at $3,500.

Both trucks were owned by Cozza.

CRASH VICTIM — Miss Patricia Stermer, 21, of Ypsilanti, Mich., who was one of 17 persons killed in a crash of TWA airliner near Burlington, Ky. TWA identified her as the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Stermer of Los Angeles.

Kentucky Plane Collision Probed

None Survive Crash Of Two Aircraft

BURLINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Twisted, shattered wreckage and airport records were all that remained today to possibly explain how 15 persons died yesterday in an airplane collision only a couple of miles from the busy Greater Cincinnati Airport. The airport is in Boone County, Kentucky.

A TWA airliner, a Martin Skyliner, bound from Cincinnati to Dayton and Cleveland, Ohio, collided with a privately owned DC3. Thirteen persons, including three crew members, were killed on the airliner. Two others died as the DC3 plunged to earth.

None Survived

The planes crashed on snow-covered hillsides along the Ohio River, about a half mile apart. There were no survivors.

Almost 12 hours after the accident, Lewis Reinbold of Pittsburgh aviation safety agent for the Civil Aeronautics Administration, issued a statement that the pilot of the DC3 "did not file a flight plan or make any contact with the CAA's facilities en route."

An investigation was being continued today.

Made Normal Takeoff

Reinbold said the TWA plane made a normal takeoff and was reported to be flying on instruments in the overcast.

The DC3 was en route to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., from Battle Creek, Mich., with Arthur Werkhaven, Sturgis, Mich., as the pilot and Edward Agner, Battle Creek, as copilot.

Captain of the TWA plane was J. W. Quinn, Belleville, Mich. The first officer was Robert K. Childress, Ann Arbor, Mich., and the sewardess, Patricia Ann Stermer, Ypsilanti, Mich., who had completed her training only last month.

One CAA official, who declined to be quoted, said it appeared as if the planes approached each other as toward the apex of a triangle and that their wings hit first.

The scene of the crash was near Hebron, Ky., approximately 15 miles from downtown Cincinnati.

Hammarskjold In U.S., Remains Silent On Talks

To Report First To U. N. On Fate Of 11 Airmen Held By Reds

RENO (AP)—U.N. Secretary Dag Hammarskjold arrived today from his mission to free 11 American airmen in Red China and stayed in bed during a brief plane refuelling stop here.

The big silver Super constellation landed at 5:14 a.m. His personal aide William Rannalo told newsmen:

"You're out of luck, boys—he's staying in bed. He's very tired."

Hammarskjold persistently has refused any comment on his talks with Chou En-lai, Red China's Premier and foreign minister, on the fate of the 11 Americans and other U.N. prisoners.

Doubts Report Today

Rannalo said he doubted that Hammarskjold would report to the U.N. today.

The plane stopped briefly at Stead Air Force Base here before continuing to New York.

Hammarskjold has maintained a stony silence on the outcome of his mission at every point since he emerged from behind the Bamboo Curtain—at Hong Kong, Tokyo and Honolulu, which he left last night wearing a pink sunburn from an afternoon on the beach.

At each stop on his return flight Hammarskjold has made clear that he would have nothing to say until he reported to the U. N. General Assembly, which sent him to seek freedom for 11 U.S. airmen jailed as "spies." The airmen were captured in the Korean War.

Met Chou 4 Times

Hammarskjold met four times in Peiping with Premier Chou En-lai and other Communist officials. In Washington, the State Department said it is completely in the dark on the substance of Hammarskjold's efforts.

Knowland said, "I think the Reds may be trying to get us into another prolonged Panmunjom which may drag on for years.

"The test is whether these men are released and they haven't been."

Senator Fears Chiang Could Set Off War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said today there is no way to spell out "100 per cent insurance" that Chiang Kai-shek will not seek to involve this country in war by provoking a Communist attack, but that he regards a note signed Dec. 10 as a "promise" from Chiang.

He referred to a note signed by Secretary of State Dulles and Chinese Nationalist Premier George K.C. Yeh, pledging the United States and Chiang's forces not to launch in the Formosa area without "joint agreement" any military actions not strictly self-defensive.

U. S. Formosa Pact

The note was signed eight days after the new U.S.-Formosa Mutual Defense Treaty. Sparkman said he regards it as the best guarantee possible that the pact would not involve this nation in a war over Formosa, the island 100 miles off China which constitutes most of Chiang's Republic of China.

Sparkman commented in an interview in advance of a closed-door session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee called to hear a briefing on the world situation by Dulles.

It was Dulles' first date with a Democratic - controlled congressional group, but Sparkman, a member, said the secretary would get "a friendlier reception than he's been getting in the past from a Republican - controlled committee."

The U. S.-Formosa treaty commits this country to "act to meet the common danger" in the event

One person was injured in one of three city traffic accidents which occurred Wednesday.

Police said the Sanfrey auto was waiting for the traffic light at the intersection of E. State and N. Lincoln Ave. when the Leonard auto, turning from E. State onto Lincoln, skidded into it at 6:25 p.m.

A car driven by Edward L. Kline of Jamestown, N.Y., struck a light-pole as Kline was backing out of a driveway on Jennings Ave. at 6:30 p.m.

A car stopped on S. Broadway for the E. State St. traffic light by Lawrence Barnhart of East Liverpool was struck in the rear by an auto driven by J. E. Rance of 212 W. 7th St. at 12:08 p.m., police reported.

Sen. McCarthy Finds Second 'Peress Case'

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (-RWis) said last night the Army had promoted to corporal a doctor who had invoked the Fifth Amendment on questions about Communism. A few hours later, the Army reported Pfc. Marvin S. Belsky's promotion had been canceled and his commander reprimanded.

McCarthy who likened the Belsky case to that of the former Army dentist Maj. Irving Peress, said he had learned the promotion was made "within the last six weeks." He said he had asked for a report from the Army. Belsky is on the medical staff at Murphy General Hospital, Waltham, Mass. at Waltham, Col. Arthur J. Redland, the commanding officer, declined comment and a hospital spokesman said Belsky was on leave until Jan. 19. He could not be located for possible comment.

Told of the Army announcement, McCarthy said he would be "curious to see an explanation of why they waited until our subcommittee got into the matter before acting." The Senator said he had called the Belsky matter to the attention of Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), new chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee on which McCarthy now serves as ranking Republican.

Wick Is Found Guilty, Sent To Massillon

Francis M. Wick of S. Ellsworth Ave., today was bound to the April Grand Jury on a sodomy charge and given the maximum penalty for contributing to the delinquency of minors.

The 48-year-old industrialist had consecutive hearings at Probate Court in Lisbon this morning before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin on the contributing count and Mayor Dean Cranmer on the preversion charge.

Wick was found guilty by Judge Tobin on the contributing charge on the basis of evidence given by boys involved in the case.

He was fined $1,000 and sentenced to a year in jail by the judge, but was granted a stay of execution of the jail term because he has been declared mentally ill.

He was committed indefinitely to Massillon State Hospital where he has been under observation the past month.

Wick pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity at the hearing before Mayor Cranmer who set bond at $2,000.

He will be held for the spring grand jury session unless Prosecutor James L. MacDonald chooses to recall the present grand jury. MacDonald has indicated the case will probably be held until April.

A report from Dr. H. K. Moir, superintendent of Massillon Hospital, stated that Wick is mentally sick. The same diagnosis was reached by Dr. Arthur G. Hyde, Dr. Louis Karnash of Cleveland Clinic and Dr. Seward Harris of Lisbon who examined Wick.

The doctors recommended that Wick receive psychiatric treatment.

Judge Tobin ruled that Wick could not be released from the mental institution, even if cured, unless ordered by him.

Wick was arrested Dec. 7 at the apartment over his plant, the Industrial Shredder and Cutter Co., following a complaint from an irate mother of a teen-aged boy she said was coming home inebriated.

The juvenile court judge released the $2,000 bond which was set by Tobin Dec. 8 when Wick was committed to Massillon.

Neighbor Nations Step Up Efforts To End Fighting

Nicaragua President Challenges Figueres To Duel With Him

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—The United States and her Latin-American neighbors stepped up peacemaking efforts today in the wake of spreading fighting and widespread small air attacks in Costa Rica.

The State Department announced in Washington it was immediately ordering U.S. planes to the battle area to make "pacific observation flights" requested by the Organization of American States. The OAS hoped such flights would halt air raids on Costa Rican towns.

A five-nation commission from the OAS was due in San Jose today from Panama for an on-the-spot investigation of the outbreak in northern Costa Rica, which Costa Rican President Jose Figueres blamed on exiles and "mercenaries" trained and equipped in neighboring Nicaragua.

Calls It Civil War

Across the border, Nicaraguan President Anastasio Somoza continued to deny the Costa Rican accusations, classing the fighting in Costa Rica as a "civil war." He said he had ordered all rebels crossing his borders disarmed and all Costa Ricans in the country rounded up for questioning.

At a news conference in Managua, Somoza also challenged Figueres to meet him at the border and settle their long-time feud with a duel between the two of them. "Somoza must be mad," a source close to the Costa Rican President commented in San Jose.

Fighting flared at half a dozen points yesterday and planes strafed nine towns including the capital. Unofficial estimates placed the rebel force at 400 men.

The Costa Rican general staff gave this general picture of the ground and air action.

On the ground:

"Many" Said Killed

Villa Quesada: — "Many rebels" killed and wounded as loyalist forces claimed to have routed the enemy from the town of 3,500 about 40 miles from the Nicaraguan border. It was seized by armed forces Tuesday at the start of the revolt.

Rio Peje: Government forces repelled the foe from this town near Villa Quesada in "fierce" fighting in which one loyalist was killed.

La Cruz: Authoritative reports said a rebel force was moving down the Inter-American Highway from this town only 10 miles from Nicaragua. The U.S. Embassy said six engineers from the UnUited States who have been working on the highway have been evacuated with their families.

The towns of Penas, Blanca and the small port of Puerto Soley, all near the Nicaraguan border, were reported in enemy hands, but the general staff voiced confidence it could handle the situation.

In the air:

San Jose: A lone fighter plane swooped over the capital, machine-gunning buildings near the President's residence. No casualties were reported. The civil guard said the plane—a World War II P47 described as "a Venezuelan plane which came from Nicaragua," was reported shot down as it headed north.

Possible Danger To McCarthy Brings Police

WASHINGTON, (AP)—For the second straight day, police have sped to the home of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) in response to neighbors' alarms of possible danger to the senator.

On both occasions police found nothing out of the ordinary.

Last night, five policemen rushed to McCarthy's house after George W. Ennis, who lives next door, set off a box alarm. Ennis said a neighbor heard noises on a roof and phoned him. Police failed to find any prowler. McCarthy came out of his house in shirtsleeves, told the officers he had heard no noises and invited them in for coffee.

The day before, Mrs. Ennis told police she received a telephone warning to get out of her home because McCarthy was going to be "blown up." A police guard was stationed near the senator's home.

Cold Canadian Air Drops Temperatures

By The Associated Press

Cold and dry weather prevailed over most of the United States today.

Cold Canadian air dropped temperatures from 5 to 20 degrees from the Dakotas and Minnesota southward to northern Texas. The cold weather extended eastward into Wisconsin and Illinois.

Temperatures were between zero and 10 degrees below zero in the Northern Plains. But it was colder from the upland valleys of the central Rockies and across the Western Plateau. One of the lowest readings early today was 20 below at Fraser, Colo.

Moderately chilly weather also was reported over most of the eastern section of the country and along the Pacific Coast.

Light snow fell from the Great Lakes region eastward to New England and across parts of the Ohio Valley.

Ohio Unemployed Total Shows 3,000 Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today an estimated 21,886 claimants newly unemployed for the week ended Jan. 8 compared to 18,241 the previous week.

Claimants unemployed one week or more were estimated at 93,741 compared to 90,273 the previous week. These totals do not include those who have received their maximum payments and still may be unemployed.

Another state agency, the Department of Industrial Relations, issued a report stating Ohio's strike record for 1954 was considerably better than the previous year and the post World War II average. Director Margaret A. Mahoney said preliminary 1954 work stoppage figures showed 260 stoppages beginning during the year involving 140,000 workers, half the number in 1953. But idleness dropped only about 20 per cent, indicating 1954 strikes averaged slightly longer than those in 1953.

Dr. Richard Sheppard Still On Danger List

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Richard A. Sheppard remained on the "danger list" today at the Cleveland Clinic, where he is being treated for a respiratory ailment. The 65-year-old father of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, convicted of killing his wife, was transferred last Tuesday from the Bay View Osteopathic Hospital he heads to take special tests at the clinic. Presbyterian Church Union Chances Dim PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The chances of a merger of the three United States branches of the Presbyterian Church appeared somewhat dim today as the result of opposition from Southern presbyteries.

The union would unite the three groups now in the process of voting on the proposal, the United Presbyterian Church, the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. and the Presbyterian Church in the United States (Southern). They have a combined membership of about 3½ million.

Unanimous approval of the three is necessary.

Thirteen Southern Presbyteries have voted on the issue and 12 have opposed it. A three-quarters majority of the 84 presbyteries in the Southern branch is necessary for the group's approval.

Noel Field, Wife To Stay With Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Noel Field has notified the State Department he and his wife have decided to forsake the United States and remain in Communist Hungary, which imprisoned them for five years.

Field's decision, not unexpected by the State Department, was relayed in a handwritten letter received two days ago at Budapest by U. S. Minister Christian M. Ravndal. The letter was disclosed last night by Department Press Officer Henry Suydam.

But officials fully expect Noel's brother Hermann to come home again. Hermann, 44, was freed by Communist Poland late in October. He too had served five years in a Red prison. He was issued a U.S. passport and is recuperating in Switzerland. A Cleveland architect, he ran afoul of the Communists in Warsaw while searching for his brother.

Noel, 50, is a controversial figure on both sides of the Iron Curtain. He has been accused by the Reds of being a spy and in Washington hearings as being a consort of Communists.

Reds in Eastern Europe accused Noel of being an American agent, but these charges were washed out when he and his wife Herta were freed last Nov. 17.

Suydam said Field's letter confirmed the Christmastime reports that he had been granted political asylum in Hungary at his request.

Senators Believe Ike to Run Again

President Defends Nixon's Campaigning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several Republican senators said today they think President Eisenhower is reluctant to run for re-election but will be convinced he ought to before the 1956 GOP convention.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) on the other hand, said he is betting Eisenhower will retire. Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said in a separate interview it is "far too early to speculate."

Monroney, who said he had won five hats betting former President Truman would not run again in 1952, said he is basing his predictions on reports that Mrs. Eisenhower doesn't want the President to be a candidate again.

"Mrs. Truman didn't want President Truman to run and he didn't," Monroney said. "I don't thik Mrs. Eisenhower wants President Eisenhower to run and I'm betting that he won't."

Eisenhower was again noncommittal when asked at his news conference yesterday about his plans for 1956.

Senators Carlson (R-Kan) and Bender (R-Ohio), who call themselves staunch Eisenhower supporters, said they don't have any doubt the President will be the party's standardbearer in 1956.

Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) said, "I don't think he wants it, but I think he'll be the nominee."

Senators Allott (R-Colo) and Clifford Case (R-NJ), elected last November with the President's active support, said they assume Eisenhower is going to run and will have no opposition for the nomination.

Eisenhower told newsmen h hopes he never becomes sufficiently selfcentered that he fails to respond to a call to duty. But he said the individual involved has to decide for himself just where his duty lies.

Eisenhower defended Vice President Nixon yesterday against Democratic charges that he had engaged last year in unfair campaign tactics. The President told questioners Nixon had assured him he never had tried to condemn the entire Democratic party. The President suggested that perhaps Nixon's remarks were taken out of context.

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler came back with an assertion that Nixon and other Republicans had "maligned and slandered the Democratic party and its candidates during the 1954 campaign."

Livestock For Ravaged Countries To Be Sought

NEW WINDSOR, Md. (AP) — The board of Heifer Project, Inc., has announced that this year other countries of plenty, as well as the United States, will be asked to provide livestock for distribution in war-ravaged and agriculturally undeveloped areas.

The group hopes to obtain and distribute 1,200 head of cattle, 500 goats, 400 pigs, 1,000 chicks and 400 packages of honey bees to needy areas this year. Much of the work will be done in Austria and Germany, to help set up refugees from Communist countries on farms of their own.

Johnson Quits Racing Commission Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Resignation of William M. Johnson of Urbana as a member of the state racing commission left that group today with only two remaining members.

John Crowley of Ravenna resigned his membership on the commission last October.

Johnson's term was not due to expire until June, 1957. He declined to comment on the resignation today and referred newsmen to Gov. Frank J. Lausche to whom he submitted the resignation Jan. 5.

Ray White, the governor's secretary, said Johnson's letter of resignation gave no reason. An attache in the commission office said hearings and meetings had been time - consuming during the past year, and that Johnson may have felt these interferred with his business, food manufacturing.

Johnson's resignation leaves only the commission chairman, Zolta Gombos of Cleveland, and member Otto G. Elliott of Millersburg. Three members are needed for a quorum, and thus one or two appointments probably will be announced soon from the governor's office.

A Great Discovery Is About to Be Made!

The hand you see here is about to turn the ignition key in a new 1955 Cadillac.

It is the hand of a man who has never driven a Cadillac before—but who finally decided to see for himself if all the wonderful things he's heard about the car are true.

He'll discover its amazing smoothness and levelness of ride—so great that even the road's roughest spots are difficult to perceive.

And he'll discover its marvelous balance on the curves and corners—its incredible quietness of operation—its extraordinary agility in the traffic lanes—and the reassuring action of its big, powerful brakes.

Yes, the evidence will be abundant—and the verdict without question: This is the greatest motor car performance of all time!

Gov. Lausche Looks Ahead

His critics will point out somethings Gov. Lausche failed to mention in his inaugural address Tuesday at the beginning of his fifth term, but most of his fellow Ohioans are not aware of any glaring omissions at the outset.

Since Lausche's low-pressure method of running the governor's job has made him a way of political life for a majority of Ohioans, his message must be regarded as a reflection of his skill in giving most of the things they want to be given.

These would seem to be financial prudence, a tax structure that does not fluctuate with the varying winds of political expediency, a realistic instead of an emotional point of view on controversial subjects, harmonious relations with the state legslature and a sense of proportion in which Frank J. Lausche is never tempted to think of himself as being bigger than any other Ohioan would be in the same circumstances.

Thus, as Gov. Lausche looks ahead to what he has said will be his final term, he finds nothing to declare an emergency about, nothing of earth-shaking proportions that must be done away with in a hurry or made to materialize immediately, no need to fiddle with the tax structure and nothing to be unusually concerned about, aside from the possibility that assemblymen may be tempted to spend more money than Ohio will be able to collect in taxes.

There will be, of course, the usual problems about school aid, more facilities for the state's wards, ruthless despoliation by strip miners and interstate truckers who would prefer to share no part of Ohio's growing burden of highway costs. And there will be, between now and midsummer when the 101st General Assembly finally winds up its affairs and goes home, many other issues that will flare up and die down like fireworks in the night.

All of this will be presided over by the remarkably composed man who has spent more terms in Ohio's governorship than anyone else ever had a chance to spend. It long ago ceased to be an opinion and became a demonstrable fact that Gov. Lausche has found a formula for executive leadership that suits a vast majority of Ohioans perfectly.

It even suits most members of his political opposition in the General Assembly, which is as stirring a tribute as any elected official of the executive branch ever can be paid.

Did Germans Find A Cure?

One of the curious twists in precautions to keep the temperature of the cold war in Europe from rising is the lack of interest being shown in the attitude of the Germans.

It has been assumed without reason that when politics-ridden France gave its permission, the Germans would resume the crusade against the Communist conspiracy that Adolf Hitler purported to be leading before he finally was destroyed as an international mad dog.

Although little information comes out of West Germany, some of it raises doubts about the ability of Germans to become the dominant military power of Europe for the third time in this century.

The ultra-nationalist German veterans' organization, Steel Helmet, talks about fatalsm and holocaust of World War II left the once-militant Germans in a state of "spiritual collapse" — that they feel no responsibility in the clash between the Communist bloc and the West. It says the prospect of atomic warfare is hopeless for a nation previously ruined by TNT bombs—that Germans see no hope of survival if they go to war again.

Volumes were written only a few years ago on the reasons for German belligerence, the historic tendency of Germans to follow strong leaders to their doom and the uselessness of hoping for reformation. Did World War II cure something that now is going to be missed because it doesn't exist any more?

When employes of a gang leader make mistakes in their jobs, they're not laid off—just out!

Little Johnny would be glad to turn all of his school books over to the school paper drive.

Everybody tries to solve everybody else's problems, which is why the world is so full of wrong answers.

Elementary Question

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Should Nation's Security Come First?

The hullabaloo being raised in Congress about the handling of security risks boils down to a simple question. Is the safety of the United States government and of the American people of paramount importance or is it to be superseded by legalistic barriers now advocated to spare government employes the hazards of investigation? Is even dismissal by the government as a matter of precaution to be subjected to frustrating devices so that ferreting out of subversives is to be made more difficult?

Too many people think the matter of security is an academic question. Many of them, because they dislike Sen. McCarthy, now are flippantly quipping that "McCarthyism is a wasm." But it is turning out to be a grim joke. For McCarthyism — which was a word first widely used in the columns of the Daily Worker, the Communist organ — has apparently not yet sufficiently aroused the government to the necessity of taking better security measures.

Thus, in the last few days some tragic exposures have been made but nevertheless the Democratic party in Congress remains divided on how to meet the dangers of Communist infiltration. While one group of Democrats in Congress is asserting vigorously that it will not relax its interest in the subject of ridding the government of Communists, another group is about to launch an investigation to prove that the Eisenhower administration has been too drastic with its dismissals of employes.

IN THE MIDST of it all, Rep. Keating, a member of the House Judiciary Committee, has issued the following statement:

"A man by the name of Joseph Petersen, a former code expert in the National Security Agency, has just been sentenced to seven years in prison for espionage. It now has been revealed that the way he was caught was by means of a routine check under the new security program instituted by President Eisenhower.

"Here was a very serious security risk who had been working for the government for years and who would still be on the payroll today, undetected and unapprehended, had this administration not acted promptly and vigorously."

The court proceedings in the Petersen case were mysteriously fragmentary. Again and again the court announced that certain testimony would be heard privately "in chambers."

The documents that were presented in open court were few and it is known, did not compare in their sensational nature with the many, withheld from public record.

Petersen made a confession which, in part, was placed in the court record. He said:

"I recall furnishing verbal information from this document to Giaccomo Stuydt, whom I knew to be a Dutch national employed at the Dutch embassy at that time. This information was given to Stuydt at different times and at different places ...

"I neglected to return this document to Arlington Hall (National Security Agency) because I was emotionally disturbed as I realized the gravity of my actions to my country in illegally furnishing information from a secret United States government document to an unauthorized foreign national."

WHAT HAPPENED after the Dutch government got the data? Was it relayed by someone to Moscow?

Petersen carried away documents from 1948 to 1952, and some of them were of such a vital nature that U.S. District Judge Albert V. Bryan, in referring to them said: "Their disclosure could have, and may have for all the court knows, led to very, very serious consequences to the security of the United States."

Members of Congress, both Republicans and Democrats, are showing unhappiness over another episode — the belated Army report on the case of Major Peress, who, according to a comment in the Senate by Sen. Daniel, was a member of the Communist party yet was given an honorable discharge after his papers for nearly two years before showed that he had refused to answer a question concerning his Communist connections. Yet Sen. McCarthy was vilified and censure recommended by the Watkins committee because he denounced the general who helped to cover up the case.

SEN. CASE, a member of that committee, now says it has been proven that the "Army had weighed the request of a Senate committee chairman against that of a suspected subversive and decided in favor of the latter."

The South Dakota senator, it will be recalled, told the Senate he changed his view when he discovered that the Army had discharged Maj. Peress after and not before Sen. McCarthy's letter seeking a postponement of that step had been received by the Army.

On top of all this there's a left wing drive on to surround government employes with complex procedural devices which would supersede the rights of the American government to protect its own safety.

Army Snafu

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

It is perhaps a sound adage to "Let sleeping dogs lie." The Peress case is one which does not seriously involve the now celebrated dentist, but it has affected the careers of many others, and has since last March stirred the country by the quarrel between the Army and Sen. McCarthy. It has split the Republican party right down the middle, and has been an embarrassment to everybody who came close to it.

Sokolsky

The case of Peress itself is hardly important. There must be many instances in the Army, which processes millions of young men and women, as the phrase goes, in which papers are inadequately or improperly made out and are negligently handled. It was therefore surprising to those who were close to the case that the Army should have made such a fuss over it.

THE ANSWER to all of Sen. McCarthy's questions could have been—"Sorry! Here is another paper snafu. In the handling of millions of papers, there will be a snafu here and there. We shall make whatever corrections are needed and we shall explore our methods to insure that there are fewer errors."

But no such answer was given. As I have been mentioned, too often, in the original Stevens-McCarthy testimony, and as I was present during a conference between them, and had some telephone calls, by his initiation, with John Adams, the Army report issued last Friday comes as no surprise to me. I knew that John Adams had pushed the "honorable discharge" of Maj. Peress as a solution of the problem. He thought that if Peress was out of the Army, McCarthy ought to be satisfied.

Unfortunately, the issue was never Peress, just as in the Fuchs-Rosenberg cases, the issue should never have been Dr. Kla Fuchs or Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. The issue was, with regard to Peress and should have been in the Fuchs-Rosenberg cases—who makes it easy for spies, subversives and such to infiltrate the agencies of government

THIS IS VERY unpleasant business and everyone who engages in it burns his fingers. Definitely it looks like persecution. Those who do these jobs look like relentless, fanatical persecutors. Nobody has yet found a method of unearthing spies and subversives pleasantly.

The subcommittee on Rules of the Senate, headed by Sen. William Jenner, has held long hearings on the subject of such investigations and has come up with a report on procedural rules which look very good in the report and ought to be adopted, if for no other reason than experimentally to see whether they will achieve the end desired, which is the accumulation of information.

As long as executive departments can withhold valuable and valid information from congressional committees, no rules will help the committees. For instance, had the Army's report on Peress been sent to the Congress last March, when as much was known about the case as is known today, there would have been no disgraceful fracas between the Army and a committee of Congress. Now, it has to start all over again to straighten out the record.

The essence of the problem is psychological, not political. Men do not like to admit errors if they can cover them up. In any large organization, errors will be made and some will be corected; some are never discovered; some may affect the course of history.

IT IS THE nature of man to try to cover up his mistakes, to avoid being caught, to hope that if they show up at all, it will be in the hands of a successor. The strong man who can say: "When I make a mistake, it's a beaut," is rare, particularly in official life.

Nevertheless, it needs to be known how the spies, subversives and perverts managed to get into our government operations and to stay there. Catching some little fellow down hte line is an individual act that means little or nothing. What needs to be known is the pattern of operations that made it so easy for them to get in and stay in.

Maybe no individual is to blame; maybe it is a faulty system of government employment; maybe it is just the normal American attitude of live and let live. Whatever it is, Secretary Stevens of the Army has reopened the door to another series of investigations.

A Belt In The Back

By TRUMAN TWILL

Whenever the marketing experts discover again that married men are letting women pick out their clothes for them, I bob my head approvingly and mutter, "Why not?"

Since the experts discover this twice a year, I am beginning to be known as "Old Bob." They have just discovered it again.

The National Association of Retail Clothiers and furnishers made a study of 1,198 women shopping for men's wear. The results showed they took the responsibility for buying more than half of every item of clothing worn by the men in their lives, except hats and shoes.

Apparently the reason men still make the bulk of decisions about hats and shoes is because these items must be fitted carefully. Anyway, they are so closely standardized that a man can't go far wrong.

But the experts miss the point, in Old Bob's opinion. They assume that this buying of men's clothing by women is a skirmish in the battle of the sexes. Old Bob contends it's the opposite.

Men are not forced to let women pick out clothing for them. They cheerfully delegate the responsibility to the women because few men like to perform this uninteresting chore for themselves. They let women do it for the same reason they let them buy the groceries, because it's something useful women are willing to do.

Furthermore, since most married men have no thought but to please their wives with their wardrobes, they get rid of a lot of stress and strain by letting the wives choose the wardrobes in the first place. It gives the girls a thrill.

They're telling a story about Ohio's Gov. Frank J. Lausche, who is noted for being indifferent to what he wears. He is kept presentable by Mrs. Lausche, who not only selects his clothes but has them fitted to an employe of the same size in the governor's mansion because the governor won't even hold still that long.

When a new blue suit looked particularly nice on her husband, Mrs. Lausche ordered a duplicate and the governor never did catch on—just thought he was getting a lot of mileage out of the blue.

This is a fine arrangement. I haven't bought anything but shoes and hats since I became a bridegroom, and these are the two standard items in my wardrobe that are chronically in need of a bonfire.

Everything else I possess has been chosen for me by the family's shopping and buying expert, the only member of the household who gets around and knows the score in the stores. She is the one who knows when coat jackets get longer and lapel peaks get shorter, when colors change, when necktie designs show a trend and when someoe has just come out with a new kinw of shirt collar. She keeps things up to snuff.

Every five years or so, if all goes well, she is authorized to bring Old Bob up to date. This year during the January sales she has been authorized to replace a suit with a belt in the back that was still sensational during the Harding administration and was even more sensational during the Wilson administration, when it was in high style. Just don't know what Old Bob would get along without this friendly service, and it's a shock to learn that the marketing experts are just learning about it.

Third Party Prospects Fading

By JAY G. HAYDEN

One certain effect of postponement of 1956 presidential nominating conventions until late August and September, as tentatively announced, is to bar third - party candidacies starting as bolts after established party nominations.

Most conspicuous in that line were the 1912 Bull Moose offshoot from the Republican convention which placed Theodore Roosevelt second in the November voting and the Dixiecrat walkout on President Truman that carried four states (South Carolina, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama) in 1948.

Neither of those would have been practicable if the regular party conventions from which they sprung had been held so late as Sept. 1, because of the lack of time in which to get added nominees on the ballot under existing state laws. Even with the Democratic convention occurring in late July, the 1948 Dixiecrat ticket of Thurmond and Wright succeeded in getting entered in only 16 of the 48 states.

The most important sufferer from late conventions in 1956 may be the widely prophesied diversion of extreme right - wingers from President Eisenhower.

Announcing in August, 1952, that he would support neither Eisenhower nor Stevenson, Col. Robert R. McCormick of the Chicago Tribune called for formation of a new American party in time to enter a ticket in 1956. And since Sen. McCarthy was censured he has been widely touted as a third - party presidential possibility.

THERE STILL is no bar to a McCormick - McCarthy third party, assumng it gets started early enough. But, as now appears, there will be no chance for a ticket inspired by that team first, to contest for Republican presidential preference and, if defeated in that quest, run independently.

And third parties, begun earlier and more deliberately, have been notably unsuccessful. Henry Wallace chose that route by organizing his Progressive party a year ahead of time with the apparent hope of splitting away a large section of the Democratic party before its nominating convention. Wallace may have harbored the notion even that he could scare the Democratic party into welcoming him like the biblical prodigal son.

Actually, Wallace on the 1948 ballot in all but three of the 48 states polled 1,157,172 votes, less even than Thurmond's 1,169,021 in 16 states. Those two combined captured less than 5 per cent of the total.

As presently planned the 1956 presidential nominating will be unique in that the Democrats will act first. That sequence has occurred only once before — in 1888, and then not by Republican choice. The Democrats that year simply got the jump by summoning their convention in St. Louis at the remarkably early date of June 5. The Republicans followed on June 19 at Chicago.

THAT WAS the year in which the Democratic incumbent, President Cleveland, was ousted by Benjamin Harrison, Republican.

There are obvious reasons why both supporters of President Eisenhower and the adherents of Adlai Stevenson, in control of the Democratic committee, should prefer late conventions from their purely selfish standpoints.

With Eisenhower's renomination virtually foregone and television and radio facilities free to him alone until nomination time, the longer the formal opening of the campaign is postponed the better from its standpoint.

Similarly, Stevenson is the one Democratic possibility well enough advertised by past TV and radio appearances to afford a short campaign.

The biggest factor on both sides prompting advancement of nominations, however, probably is the change in campaigning methods.

As late as 1920 Warren G. Harding and James M. Cox campaigned without even so much as a voice amplifier. The range of their oratorical appeal was measured by individual lung power.

The Market Probe

Congress will investigate the 1954 stock market boom. This gets everybody into the act. Let's have it on TV billed as an audience participation "How Far Is Up" program. The last Congressional probe of that nature used a midget in J. P. Morgan's lap. Entertainment has changed and they may use puppets, Kukla, Fran and Ollie in this one. The Democrats didn't get the business recession they predicted and they will now settle for a stock market inquiry. It can end in recommendations for federal controls of the human desire for a fast dollar, a bid and asked price fixed by a joint Republican-Democratic committee and caution lights over all brokerage offices.

We can see it now. . . . The head of a top corporation takes the stand:

Q—You are here as the head of a great business to explain how the market got so high so fast.

A—That's funny. I came here hoping I could find out from you.

Q—Early last year the stock in your corporation was as low as 48. On New Year's day it was 104. Don't you think this unusual?

A—It is so unusual I long ago stopped speaking to the broker who told me in June that the advance to 60⅛ for stock in my own business made any purchase by me dangerous.

Q—Don't you know what your stock is worth from day to day?

A—No. I'm in the same position as a senator with regard to what his questions are worth from probe to probe.

Q—Is it your opinion that American corporations have a bigger year ahead than in 1954?

A—Are you conducting an inquiry or looking for a market tip?

(The president of another corporation takes the stand for the long pull, but the committee uses him for a quick turn-over.)

Q—You are one of America's ablest industrialists. Will you explain what forces were behind the rise in stocks?

A—I'm dizzier than you are on that. But I would suppose some of the same forces are behing it as are behind bingo, the Irish sweepstakes, turkey raffles, a chance on an auto, a radio quiz program and mankind's desire not of stocks is bad?

(He is excused as a nondividend paying witness and head of the Stock Exchange is called.)

Q—Don't you think installment plan buying of stocks is bad

A—No. If a man can buy an icebox on time why can't he buy an interest in Standard Oil. I think it as natural for a man to want dividends as much as ice-cubes.

Q—As John Doakes, an average citizen, takes the stand)—What do you think of the market?

A—I favor CAPITAL PUNISHMENT.

Q—For whom?

A—For the broker who told me that 80 was too high for du Pont.

Chairman — Call Maj. Peress to the stand.

A Senator—What's he got to do with this?

Chairman—Nothing, but we stand just about as much chance to get anywhere and I want at least a photo finish!

In New York hundreds of parking meters are being looted. We saw a fellow mumbling into one and saying, "This is a stickup! Don't move!"

"Marilyn Monroe got to a Connecticut party disguised in a blackwig." News item. Ya mean people notice her head! ! !.

So quickly did Democrats gang up on Ike after his State of the Union speech that you might say they swarmed onto the fairway before his ball had stopped rolling and tried to stomp it into the ground.

A probe of boxing by the U.S. Senate is now in the works. The idea is to decide if "Let me call you, sweetheart" as its theme song is to be tolerated further.

After almost a year Secretary Stevens finally came through with the Army report on the Peress case. It clearly shows confusion, fuddubbery and shocking red tape, which was what Sen. McCarthy alleged in the first place. Senator McClellan, Joe's successor, says the first thing he will do will be to change the committee file system as kept by McCarthy's secretary. Is the country in greater danger from a card index situation than from spies in munitions plants, enemy agents in government, and atomic bombs, bub?

To Air German, French Dispute

Mendes-France To Meet Adenauer

ROME (AP) — French Premier Pierre Mendes-France leaves today for a visit to West Germany and talks with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer on postwar French-German differences. The energetic Premier carries with him partial Italian support for his controversial European arms pool plan.

During two days of talks here with Premier Mario Scelba and other Italian leaders, the French Premier won agreement-in-principle for his plan to set up a seven-nation agency to control arms output and distribution within the projected Western European Union. The two nations also announced accords on several economic questions, involving trade, industrial cooperation and immigration.

Despite the promise of partial support, Mendes - France reportedly was disappointed in the reception given the arms pool plan by Italian leaders. Sources indicated he had hoped for more enthusiastic backing, which might aid him in getting an okay from a less receptive West Germany.

The plan, designed to prevent West Germany from overarming within the WEU, comes up next Monday before a meeting in Paris of the seven nations which signed the still-unratified WEU treaty. In addition to France, Italy and West Germany they include the Netherlands, Britain, Belgium and Luxembourg.

The Bonn government has said it is ready to cooperate with other nations in sharing the manufacture of heavy weapons, like tanks and guns, and in the standardization of arms amog the treaty partners.

West German officials have emphasized, however, they do not intend to give up the right to manufacture any of those arms they would be permitted to make under terms of the interrelated Paris treaties for German rearmament.

The joint French-Italian communique issued last night pledged "ever closer collaboration" for world peace and French-Italian prosperity.

The cautiously phrased statement said Scelba and Italian Foreign Minister Gaetano Martino agreed on the need for arms control and promised further study of the French Premier's pool plan.

On the economic side, French capital will be welcomed into underdeveloped southern Italy, and Italian industry will be allowed to help build up French overseas territories.

"Maybe we'll cut it down to five years," said Rep. Hector A. Brouillet (R-Chicago). "I don't believe it fair to dig up the long-ago past against a person."

Be Glad You Are Overweight

Yes, be glad you are overweight if you are heavily insured and your family can use the money. Insurance companies predict that your days are numbered if you are carrying around excess weight and are not doing something about it. If you are overweight read this letter from V. Pridemore, 754 Wayne St., Cincinnati, Ohio who writes: "When I first started taking Rennel Concentrate I weighed 190 lbs. In the few weeks that I have been taking Rennel I have lost 45 lbs. and now weigh 145. I feel so much better and can do many things I could not do before when I was overweight."

Thousands of others have overcome the social and physical discomfort of being overweight with this effective home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves — if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Insist on Rennel.

Leaders Spur Activities In Columbiana County 4-H Clubs

W. C. Roberts, Columbiana County associate agricultural agent, is a West - Virginia-bred man who wants the four H's — head, heart, hands and health — put back into 4-H club work.

He is setting up a year-round program of activities which will give the county's some 1,500 boys and girls little chance to forget the green cloverleaf emblem and its meaning.

The backbone of club work in the county long has been project activities — raising stock, tending flower or vegetable beds or making dresses and pies. For most members, outside of those who had chosen stock as a project, the 4-H year started sometime in March. The climax to a few busy months of getting ready for the county fair came in late August.

Almost a half year lapsed before club work started up again.

Roberts' plan is to bridge the gap with educational and recreational activity in the off-months.

To get the program into gear a series of metings for advisors has been planned, since the adult leader is the key to a first-rate youth extension program.

"Organization and Devlopment of 4-H Club Work" is the topic for the first meeting at the parish hall of St. George's Catholic Church in Lisbon, Jan. 20.

Other subjects for subsequent meetings are "Fundamental Points Involved in Planning Good Meetings," "Let's Look at our 1955 Policies and Activities," and "We Learn by Doing Through Project Work."

Besides Roberts, home demonstration agent Jean Stitle and County Agent Floyd Lower will assist in the discussions.

The actual language of the note signed by Dulles and Yeh was not made public at the time of its signing, but it has been furnished to the senate for use in connection with its consideratio of the treaty.

This is the key language:

"In view of the obligations of the two parties . . . and of the fact that the use of force from either of these areas by either of the parties affects the other, it is agreed that such use of force will be a matter of joint agreement, subject to action of an emergency character which is clearly an exercise of the inherent right of self-defense."

The areas referred to are Formosa and the Pescadores, specifically included in the treaty, and other islands such as the Tachens which are not specifically included.

civilians would require some form of active duty or military training for virtually all able-bodied young men.

Before reaching 19, or in some cases before the 20th birthday, a youth would have a variety of choices:

1. He could volunteer for the three years as a regular in the Army or Marine Corps, or four years in the Navy or the Air Force. His total military obligation including reserve service would be eight years.

2. He could volunteer to take six months of intensive military training, and thereafter remain active in the National Guard or reserve for an addtional 9½ years. He still could be drafted if he failed to maintain his standing in the Guard or reserves. Plans call for training 100,000 men a year under this program.

3. He could, before reaching 19, enter the reserves direct under a commitment to go on full active duty, when called, for at least 24 months in the Navy or four years in the Air Force.

4. He could wait until he is drafted for 24 months, after which he would remain in the reserves fo six years.

The President's plan would permit the services to use compulsion in keeping reservists actively in training.

Nationalists Heavily Bomb Red Islands

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Chinese Nationalist four-engine bombers blasted Chinese Communist-held Tienao Island for the fourth straight day today and pounded nearby Toumen Island, air force headquarters said.

Nationalist warships fired on three Communist patrol boats in the same area, around 220 miles north of Formosa, and forced them to flee, a communique said. The surface action was reported south of Yushan, a Nationalist island 30 miles northeast of the Tachen Islands.

The big bombers roared north from Formosa in predawn darkness, flew through "heavy anti-aircraft fire" and dropped scores of bombs, the communique reported. It said big fires broke out on the two Communist islands.

Nationalist headquarters said the raiders ran into heavy antiaircraft fire but blasted Communist shore installations and ships with excellent results. The island is regarded as a possible staging point for an invasion of the nearby Nationalist-held Tachens.

Communist warplanes failed to challenge the raiders and all bombers returned, the ministry said.

Wings Given 100 Watchers

Legion Bowlers Post To Enter Tournament

COLUMBIANA — Wings were presented 100 watchers of the Columbiana Ground Observer Corps for 25 or more hours of service at a meeting in the high school auditorium Tuesday evening.

Meeting place had been changed from home economics room to the auditorium because of the larger than expected number of presentations. Six officers present from Canton Filter Center, to which the Columbiana observation post is tributary, said it was the largest presentation yet made in the Canton center territory.

Among those receiving wings was Mrs. Lynn Perrin who has served for more than 25 hours at her home on 538 W. Park Ave. Mrs. Perrin cares for children of watchers during their absence on duty since she is detained at home by family duties. Two families, the John Kyser family of four persons and the Frank Ambrose family of along with several husband and wife teams.

CAPT. ARTHUR Masterson, in charge of the Canton center, and Capt. Donald Keinolz, center officer, gave talks and showed a movie, "Face to Face with Communism." Other officers present from the Canton center were Capt. Roy Semaru, Lieut. Russell Ford, Master Sgt. Thomas Lee and Sgt. James Mullet.

Pictures were taken of some of the watchers receiving wings, including the two families honored.

Mrs. Laura Wonsetler, supervisor of the Columbiana Ground Observer post, says the post is maintaining a vigil of 145 to 154 hours a week. Men are still needed, she says, to serve once a month on the six-hour shift from midnight to 6 a.m. Anyone available is requested to contact Mrs. Wonsetler, Mrs. Laura Hamilton or Mrs. George Cannon.

Tavern Operator Asks Preachers Be Moved

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A churchgoing tavern operator complained yesterday to the City Council that sidewalk preaches are harming business.

Ministerial students persist in preaching sermons in front of her tavern door, Mrs. M. E. Johnson said. Customers, whether or not they're swayed by the Gospel, can hardly push past the preachers, she said.

Mrs. Johnson said she was a church member herself, but added that she did not think the churches should interfere with her business.

City Atty. Rinehart Rouer said he believed police could order the preachers away from Mrs. Johnson's tavern door.

22 Additional Bills Offered

Legislature Deadline Set For New Laws

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Senate, under the spur of its Republican leadership, swings into full-scale hearings on several prime bills next week, just two weeks after convening of the Legislature.

Both House and Senate started a long weekend recess at noon yesterday. But in the nterval until they reconvene at 8 p.m. Monday, law-makers will be busy getting more proposed bills into shape.

Members are working against a Feb. 14 deadline for introduction of bills. House members weren't surprised at the deadline, for they customarily observe one. But the decision of Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem that the Senate would observe a deadline for the first time since 1939 hit his colleagues an unexpected blow.

Representatives and senators combined yesterday to introduce another 22 proposed laws. That brings the total offered in the first two weeks of the session to 131.

Mechem, weary of the drawn-out sessions of recent years, got out the whip early and insisted his committee chairman schedule quick hearings on bills already introduced. The result was that six of the 20 committees scheduled hearings next week on 12 of the 44 bills now before the Senate.

One of the top-interest bills now before the Senate is scheduled for its first hearing Monday night after the Senate session.

It is a measure by Sen. David Mc. Ferguson (R - Guernsey) to strip the Ohio Turnpike Commission of the authority to issue bonds for further turnpike construction without approval of the Legislature. The change in the law would give the Legislature the whip hand in deciding whether new turnpikes are to be built and what routes they would take.

The Senate Hghways and Public Utilities Committee will hear friends and foes of the bill. Ferguson is the committee's chairman.

Two measures important to the state's judges are down for hearing Wednesday before the Senate finnce nd judiciry committees.

Before the finance group is a bill to raise the salaries of judges ranging from $20,000 for the Supreme Court's chief justice and $19,000 for associate justices to a minimum of $7,000 for judges of common pleas courts. Minimum salary for the latter now is $4,000.

The Senate Judiciary Committee will start hearings Wednesday on a proposal to permit increases in salary, but no decreases, for public officials during their terms of office.

The change, because it is an amendment to the State Constitution, requires a three-fifths favorable vote of both houses of the Legislature and a majority approval of the voters.

It has the support of the Ohio Bar Assn. and of Gov. Frank J Lausche, who terms the present bar against salary increases "manifestly unfair."

Policeman Seeks Pair Of Burglars, Nabs 40

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Police Sgt. Wilhelm Neuhaus set out to catch two burglars yesterday but ended up instead with a police captain, a lieutenant and 40 prisoners.

Neuhaus received a call that two men were breaking into the basement of a candy store. He rushed to the scene, found the cellar door open, heard noise and barged in.

He helped capture 40 men accused of illegal card and dice games in the cellar. The two prowlers reported to Neuhaus were the captain and lieutenant about to surprise the gamblers.

GIVERS GO WITH GIFT — Air Force Capt. Cullen W. Irish II, 38, and his wife, Desse, pose en route to Tokyo, Japan, where Irish will be reassigned while the couple "has the pleasure" of watching a $25,000 gift to two Japanese orphanages put to use. The couple recently won $50,000, all of which has gone to charity, in an auto contest held at Vallejo, Calif.

Judge Blasts New Income Tax Form

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Circuit Judge Dale Souter says he has come face to face with the most perplexing problem of his career—the new income tax form.

The form so vexed the judge that he wrote a letter of objection to Rep Ford (R-Mich, Sen. Potter (R-Mich) and Sen. McNamara (D-Mich).

The judge wrote that he thought the income tax statement forms are "to say the least, atrocious."

"It seems the Congress certainly should be able to find the necessary personnel to prepare a form that the ordinary taxpayer can understand and fill out himself without paying an expert to interpret it for him," Judge Souter stated.

He said he has completed his return but added he now is seeking an accountant to verify it.

Burning Questions

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP) — As a public service, we will now dispose of some of the burning questions of our time:

Q. Why do bald men or semi-bald men have to pay full price for a haircut?

A. (From my barber) Because there'sless cutting but more research; the hairs are hard to find. Also, with a full head of hair, a barber can hide his mistakes. With a bald man, he must be more careful; each hair is doubly important.

Actually, though, a full head of hair takes about 25 minutes to cut. We take about 15 minutes for a baldie. We can do it in much less time but we stretch it to impress the customer.

We have to have one price—how else would you charge? What would you charge for a man with 10 hairs or 80 or 80,000? You'd go crazy trying to figure it.

Q. Are TV commercials really louder than the rest of the program or do they just seem that way?

A. In some cases they're actually louder. Where commercials are filmed and intended to be used many times, they are likely to wear out.Therefore the original sound track is made louder, a man at CBS said.

Q. What ever happened to G. David Schine?

A. (From the Pentagon) He is a private first class serving with an MP unit in Alaska and "shortly" will be eligible for promotion. Corporal, presumably.

Q. Why is northern Brooklyn known as South Brooklyn by the natives

A (From a Brooklynite) Why not?

Q. What ever happened to the 3-cornered diaper?

A (From a diaper service). Been largely replaced by the 4-cornered diaper. The 4-corner is bigger and more versatile. You can keep using the same size even as the baby grows. Also it's good for burping, as a semi-covering or sheet.

Besides, it covers more of the strategic areas and is equally usable for either sex. Instead of being pinned only up the front, it's pinned on both sides. That means less chafing, fewer rashes.

Q. Why does a short belt cost as much as a long belt?

A (From a belt manufacturer) It costs as much to support a short girl as a tall girl, doesn't it?

If we charged strictly according to size, the man who wears, say, a size 48 would have to pay twice as much as he does now, and the size 24, half as much. We charge on the basis of what it costs to make a 36, which is the average size. Besides, you'd go crazy trying to figure a different price for each size.

(I think this guy was talking to my barber.)

Q. Why are some oil trucks marked "inflammable" and others, "flammable," when both words mean the same thing?

A. (From lawyers at the American Petroleum Institute). "inflammable" was the original choice to indicate a cargo capable of bursting into flames. That was and is correct. But then the modern technical mind went to work and assumed that some people might be confused by the "in" to indicate a negative or not flammable. So, some companies use the second which is also correct.

Q. Is it fair to deduce from the pseudoscalar meson theory relating quantitatively to meson-nucleon scattering that nuclear forces depend on spin and deduce that there is a quadrupole moment of the Deuteron?

A. Sorry, I got to catch a train.

Youth Uses 51 Washers To Call Long Distance

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Tom Patton Williams, 23, told Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson he used 51 washers the size of 25-cent coins to mak elong distance telephone calls to his girl friend.

She lives in California and her last name is Love, Williams said.

After Williams promised yesterday to make restitution, he was given a probated $250 fine.

Warren Has Tall, Strong Squad

Youngstown Rayen Has Best City Record

By LOWELL FLEISCHER

Coach John Cabas' Salem Quakers will play what should be two of their toughest gams so far this season when they meet the Warren Harding Panthers and the Rayen Tigers over the wekend.

Tomorrow night the locals will travel to Warren to meet the Panthers who have a season record of four wins and five losses.

The Panthers will have two very tall men on the starting lineup against Salem. Dick Berry, the team's leading scorer, goes at 6-5 and will start at one of the forward slots. Bart Barrett, 6-4, is the Panthers' center.

Warren Giles, an All-Ohio football player, will start the other forward position. Giles is 5-11. Mike Scala, 6-1, and Ben Ross, 5-10, will start at the two guard spots.

The Panthers have good rebounding, with their two big boys always on the boards. They'll certainly give Myers and Alexander a lot of competition.

THE PANTHERS lost three ball games in a row at the outset of the season before coming up with a win over their Alumni. They then lost to a rough Kent Roosevelt outfit in the Kent tournament during Christmas vacation but won the consolation contest over the Ravenna Ravens.

They beat Girard 62-42 and de feated Canton Lincoln 54-45 before losing to Canton McKinley 71-47 last week. Chaney defeated the Panthers 61-48 in the season opener, and Warren also lost to Mansfield 84-69 and 59-55 to Sharon, Pa. Warren handed the Quakers their first loss of the season last year 60-54.

While Salem is playing Warren Friday the Rayen Tigers will take on Chaney in a Youngstown City Series battle. Rayen is deadlocked with East for second place in the city series standings with a 2-1 record. Wilson is on top of the Youngstown league with a 3-0 record in city series action.

Rayen has the best season record of any Youngstown squad, however, having won five and lost two. The Tigers have scored a total of 474 points while their opponents have tallied 343 markers.

After winning four in a row, the Tigers fell apart and lost to Niles and to Woodrow Wilson, in city series play. Rayen tallied 94 points against Austintown Fitch in the season opener. Last Tuesday the Tigers got back in the win column by defeating Ursuline.

Coach Charlie Joachim's squad has four all-city football selections on the starting five. Bob Timlin, Dick Horvath, Ken Korhan and Tom Stevens. Charles Bushman, Rayen center, is the tallest team member, going at 6-3. The other four starters are all around the 6-foot mark.

RAYEN HAS A veteran squad this year, all five starters played against Salem last season when the Quakrs eked out a 60-59 win. The Tigers have used a fast break in several games this season, although they're capable of playing a good possession type ball game.

Against Ursuline last week, the Tigers ran with the ball for the first half and then switched to a control game for the last quarter. Since Ravenna's apparent success in holding down the high-scoring Quakers last Saturday, several of the remaining teams on the local schedule will probably try the stalling tactics.

Rayen, although beaten once in city series play, is still a top contender for the Youngstown crown. It was reported last week that Joachim was having internal trouble with his squad, with the members trying to outscore one another. With last Tuesday's win, he may have found a solution to the problem.

Cabas will go with the same group as starters that he has used all season, Harry Baird, Ken Bosu, and Rich Hunter out in front, with Jack Alexander and Jerry Myers working the boards. The Quakers will be out for their eighth and ninth wins of the season which is rapidly nearing the halfway mark.

TONIGHT CABAS and his assistant coach Karl Zellers will put their teams through a regular practice session in the Salem High School for the benefit of Salem fans. The "open house" sponsored by the Salem Booster Club will get underway promptly at 7 p.m. The purpose of the open house is to give Salem fans a chance to see how practices are run, and Cabas will describe his method of coaching.

The Quakers were reported ranked eighth in the state by the International News Service in a poll of state sports editors this week. Canton McKinley was fifth. The Quakers ended last season ranked in 11th place in the state by the Associated Press.

The AP is expected to release its first poll of the season next Tuesday.

Willie Mays, Gomez Engage In Fist Fight

SAN JUAN, P. R. (AP) — Usually affable Willie Mays and Ruben Gomez, key players in the New York Giants' drive to the world championship last fall, apparently were on good terms today after a fist fight.

The two players, members of the Santurce club of the Puerto Rican League, engaged in fisticuffs during a practice session Tuesday. Mays knocked Gomez down before other players stopped the sqabble.

But today both players refused to discuss the incident and teammates said they had shaken hands.

"There's nothing to it," said Gomez. "We both consider the case closed and are good friends.

Newspaper reports said Gomez attempted to intervene in a scrap between Mays and batting practice pitcher Milton Ralat. Mays mistook Gomez's intentions and threw a punch, knocking the Giants right-hander down.

Claire Goodwin Picked To Head Pacific League

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Claire V. Goodwin, a one-time second baseman who wants the challenge more than the money, is the new president of the Pacific Coast League.

The unanimous selection of the 59-year-old vice president of Lucky Stores, Inc., was announced yesterday.

"I took the office as a challenge," he said.

"There is a lot of missionary work to be done. I'll go out and meet the people."

Goodwin succeeds Clarence (Pants) Rowland, who quit to join the Chicago Cubs executive staff.

Mims Defeated By Castellani

Fight Almost Breaks Out In Dressing Room

By BILL NEWKIRK

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rocky Castellani's unanimous decision over Holly Mims last night almost carried over into a dressing room rematch as Mims and his entourage burst into the winner's quarters screaming various versions of "we was robbed."

Castellani had been lounging in his robe. His eyes widened in surprise, and then he lunged to his feet, fists clenched, and muttered in flat, cold tones:

"I'll show 'em who won it."

Quick grabs by Castellani's trainers stopped what might very well have become a free-for-all, out of sight of the 5,348 fans in the arena and the television viewers who watched the 12-round middleweight bout.

Mims, along with his manager Nick Trottao and his trainers claimed that Castellani butted him in the clinches and rubbed him on the ropes.

Castellani's manager Al Naiman said later the rhubarb "was only the result of the heat of battle, and disappointment."

"They didn't really mean it. Everythng's ironed out now. Everybody's happy."

Castellani's victory, which probably earned him another crack at Bobo Olson's middleweight crown, was fairly impressive. He let Mims take the offensive in the early rounds, but outboxed him all the way and dumped him to the canvas for a mandatory eight count in the eighth round with a hard left hook.

After the fight, Al Naiman, Castellani's manager, said Olson "has definitely agreed to fight Rocky within the next 90 days."

"Maybe," qualified Olson's manager Sid Flaherty, who sat with the champion at ringside and watched the fight. But Flaherty conceded that the only major obstacles in the way were arrangements, "money for instance."

The 27-year-old Castellani, at 159½, was four pounds heavier than Mims, 25, in last night's fray. He was rated No. 2 among middleweight contenders, behind Joey Giardello, while Mims was No. 3.

Castellani fights out of Cleveland. Mims is from Washington, D. C.

Six Football Rule Changes Are Adopted

NEW YORK (AP)—Football will be more honest next fall—on the field, at least—if the wishes of the NCAA Rules Committee are respected.

Winding up 2½ days of deliberations, the committee yesterday adopted six changes in the rules and made two strong appeals to coaches for more honest and careful observance of other important rules.

Two of the three rules changes were designed to prevent unfair deception on offense—the outlawing of the "hideout" play and a new proviso concerning plays where a middle lineman (tackle, guard or center) becomes eligible to receive forward passes. Another will help keep the defense "honest" by providing more opportunities for fake place kicks.

The most imortant change was in the substitution rule—a short step backward from the "no platoon" rule adopted two years ago. This will permit any player who starts a quarter to leave the game and re-enter once during that quarter. Collaterally, the four-minute "segment" in the second and fourth quarters was eliminated.

But the committee decided not to try this time to solve two of its bigges headaches—false starts and elbow blocks — by changing the rules. Instead, a strong appeal will be addressed to officials and commissioners for stricter enforcement of the rules and to coaches to observe them.

The "hideout" was ruled out by a proviso that when the ball is spotted and declared ready for play, every offensive player must be within 15 yards of it. On the "tackle eligible" pass, no offensive player may be stationed outside the lineman who becomes eligible.

The "holder" on a place kick now is permitted to rise and run with the ball, pass or kick it. This will keep the defense from rushing too enthusiastically and also eliminate a difficult call when the "holder" raised his knee from the ground for a fake play.

Two minor changes were eliminating the "wig-wag" requirement in the fair catch signal and authorizing the use of shoe cleats with rounded ends.

Freeman Far Ahead Of Top Scoring Pace

CHICAGO (AP)—Ohio State's Robin Freeman, 5-11 guard, is averaging 10 points per game better than the all-time Big Ten scoring pace set last season by 6-10 Don Schlundt of Indiana.

Official Big Ten statistics today showed Freeman with a 37 point average in two league games. Schlundt, who is second in scoring with a 31.3 average in three games, set the Big Ten record average of 27.1 through a 14-game schedule last year.

The lofty Hoosier continues to increase his career scoring record as he starts his fourth season. It is now expanded to 1,176, far ahead of the old mark of 1,027 by Ohio State's Paul Ebert in three campaigns.

Minnesota's Dick Garmaker is third on the scoring list with a 29 average in three games and Northwestern's Frank Ehmann four with 25.5 in two.

Seven clubs are averaging between 80 and 86 points per game, topped by Iowa with 86.7. Illinois, Minnesota and Northwestern have the best defensive marks, each yielding about a 75-point average.

San Francisco Defeats Santa Clara 54-44, Cincinnati Trounces Dayton

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

While college basketball rambles along in what may be its most prolific scoring season—with 100-plus game totals popping up all over— the lads who bump into San Francisco are having a tough time getting 50 oints. And that stingy treatment may lead the Dons into the NCAA title tournament as an at-large representative.

The Dons, ranked fifth in this week's Associated Press poll, shackled Santa Clara by a 54-44 count last night for their 11th victory in 12 games and their ninth straight. The lean Santa Clara point production chopped San Francisco's nation leading team defense average to a scant 47.9 allowance a game.

San Francisco, which lost to UCLA 47-40 but reversed it with a 56-44 triumph, went into a seven-minute stall against Santa Clara at the close of the California Basketball Assn. game. Kenny Sears—who has starred for Santa Clara in three NCAA playoffs—was high with 17 points.

Only four other teams ranked among the nation's top 20 were in action—and two of them were knocked off. LaSalle (No. 4) had a rough second half, but finally defeated Muhlenberg 88-79, while George Washington (No. 8) was sending William and Mary to its first Southern Conference defeat 79-65 with Corky Devlin canning 29 points for the Colonials.

Thrice-beaten Cincinnati trounced Dayton (No. 12) 85-78 and Louisville, tied for 20th with Auburn, dropped a home court decision to remarkable Marquette 82-78. It was Marquette's 12th straight victory after an opening defeat.

The LaSalle game had a couple of surprises. First, the Mules moved ahead of the Explorers early in the second half and only a zone defense and some clutch shooting by Alonzo Lewis regained the lead for LaSalle. The second surprise was that Lewis, with 24 points, took the scoring honors away from All-America Tom Gola, who scored 23 along with teammate Charlie Singley for LaSalle.

Duke's Ron Mayer was stopped with seven points before fouling out midway in the second half, but substitute forward Kerky Lamley hit for 20 as the Boue Devils defeated South Carolina 82-64 in an Atlantic Coast Conference game.

Penn State, a newcomer to the nation's leading offense statistics at the No. 10 spots, clobbered Syracuse 107-85.

Saddler To Box Davis On Feb. 25

NEW YORK (AP)—Sandy Saddler has agreed to take his featherweight title out of the deep freeze for a Feb. 25 defense against Red Top Davis at Madison Square Garden.

Saddler hasn't given anybody a crack at the crown since the September night in 1951 when Willie Pep "quit" in the other corner, a ninth-round TKO victim. Of course, Sandy was in the Army for two years and didn't get out until last April.

Davis, veteran of 107 fights with a 58-47-2 record, is 31, three years older than the champion, who has a gaudy 137-12-2 career mark for 151 fights. Sandy has knocked out 97 opponents including Pep three times.

Contracts will be signed later but the two managers have a verbal agreement with the International Boxing Club. Sandy will get 40 per cent and most of the TV cash.

President Anthony Etronella of the National Boxing Assn. said the NBA undoubtedly will recognize the winner as the world champion but he "would still prefer to recognize Davis as champion before the fight." He said the matter would head the agenda at the organization's quarterly executive committee meeting in New York tomorrow.

Bing Crosby Stages 14th National Tourney

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Bing Crosby stages his 14th annual national pro-amateur golf tournament for a $15,000 purse starting tomorrow, and today this bright, winter green Monterey Peninsula country teemed with activity.

More than 250 professional and amateur players are on deck for the 54-hole event, one that is officially designated the Crosby Clambake.

On hand are the nation's top pros and a wealth of amateurs, most of them more famous as personalities rather than golfers. It appears you get invited to this Crosby party if either you play a top game, entertain, or have no less than three $5,000 automobiles in the family.

Mickey Owen Dropped By Boston Red Sox

BOSTON (AP) — One of the most colorful and varied careers as an active player has ended with the unconditional release of catcher Arnold Malcolm (Mickey) Owen by the Boston Red Sox.

However, the Sox have given Mickey a contract as a coach for the 1955 season with the parent club.

Owen thus concludes 20 years as a player in professional baseball. He probably will be working in the bull pen when the season opens.

The 39-year-old veteran, a steady workmanlike performer, spent much of his time trying to live down two incidents in his career—the jump to the Mexican League and the dropped third strike in the 1941 World Series.

Furman Holds College Team Scoring Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Furman, an old hand at high scoring team assaults, vaulted into the lead this week in offense statistics among the nation's major college basketball teams.

Two 100-point-plus sprees—one an all-time single game record—sent Furman spiraling into first place in pursuit of its third straight scoring title.

Furman's 154-67 mauling of The Citadel capped the Paladins' rise to the No. 1 spot with a 99.2 average for 10 games through Tuesday. Furman also had a 102-85 trouncing of Erskine in the records through the streak—as well as a 105-81 reversal by North Carolina State which helped boost the Wolfpack, No. 2 team in this week's Associated Press poll, from 17th to 7th.

Cardinals Tear Down Screen To Aid Musical

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Stan (The Man) Musial, St. Louis Cardinals veteran outfielder who already owns most of baseball's batting honors, may find the key to an elusive home run crown through a bit of carpentry work on Busch Stadium.

The club decided yesterday to take down the screen in front of the right field pavilion—a move which cuts 25 feet 2 inches off the distance needed for a homer.

The screen, which since 1930 has been known as a pitcher's friend, extends from the right field foul line 156 feet toward center field. A batter, in the past, had to loft the ball over the screen to the pavilion roof, which is 36 feet 8 inches above ground level.

Now only an 11-foot- 6-inch concrete wall stands between south paw sluggers such as Musial and a quick trip around the base paths.

"I think it will be a tempting target," Musial remarked, obviously thinking about the 310-foot distance to the base of that wall. The distance at the point the screen ends is 354 feet.

Stan led the Cardinals with 35 homers last season and belted 10 balls off the screen, hits that will go out of the park this season. Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati led the National League with 49 and big Klu, incidentally, bounced three off the screen to lead the opposition in this department. But he didn't belt a homer in Busch Stadium.

Musial, a six - time National League batting champion, has yet to walk off with home run honors.

Home Town Fetes 'The Horse' Ameche

KENOSHA, Wis. (AP)—"The Horse" who carried Wisconsin's football fortunes for four years got a ride himself last night.

Alan Ameche, the Badgers' All - America fullback and the greatest ground gainer in collegiate football history, came home to a banquet in his honor perched on a fire engine at the head of a motorcade. With him were his older son, Brian, just under two, and his wife, Yvonne.

The noisy ride through the streets of his hometown—young Brian enjoyed the screaming sirens more than anybody—was only a prelude, though, to a lucrative evening. By the time it was over the Ameches had netted something like $6,000 in cash and assorted gifts, including a Palomino horse and the title to a brand-new automobile.

And "The Horse" also received a scroll, official recognition of being selected on the All-America team by The Associated Press.

The banquet climaxed "Ameche Day," officially proclaimed in his industrial city of 50,000 where Ameche and the girl he married grew up.

The dinner was attended by more than 1,000.

Gov. Kennon Says Taxpayers Willing To Pay For New Roads

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Robert F. Kennon of Louisiana told a highway conference today taxpayers will shell out money for road construction "less grudgingly" than for any other purpose.

The taxpayer is convinced he is really getting "something for his money" when roads are built, Kennon said in a prepared address for a national conference on highway financing sponsored by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, head of the advisory committee which recommended to President Eisenhower a 101 - billion dollar federal-state highway program this week, was another scheduled speaker.

The Clay committee called for a new 27 - billion -dollar program that would develop a 40,000 mile network of interstate highways over the next 10 years. All but two billions would be provided by the federal government through a bond-issuing federal highway corporation.

As head of the Governors' Council, Kennon delivered to Eisenhower last month a report from the nation's governors which embodied many of the proposals set forth by the Clay committee.

Kennon said he didn't think construction of toll roads would meet the problem.

A study of the situation in Louisiana showed, he said, "that only in a few instances would a toll road be a paying proposition. It is my opinion that this condition prevails in most of the other states."

Therefore, Kennon said, he was in agreement with the Clay committee that most of the bill for the interstate highway network should be paid by the federal governmnt.

But, he added, "each state should have the primary job of building, maintaining and operating all highways within its borders."

ORANGE PEACH DUMPLINGS

2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
4 to 5 tablespoons orange juice
6 to 8 well drained canned cling peach halves

Sift flour and salt. Add orange rind and cut in shortening with pastry blender or two knives. Add 1 tablespoon of orange juice at a time, using only enough to make pastry stick together. Roll thin on lightly floured board or prepared pastry cloth and cut into 6-inch squares.

Place a peach, cut side down, on each square. Pinch edges of pastry together to seal over peach. Place in shallow baking pan. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven until pastry is browned — about 25 minutes. Serve warm with the following sauce.

Sauce:

Stir together 1-3 cup firmly packed light brown sugar and 1½ tablespoons cornstarch. Gradually stir in 1¼ cups syrup from canned peaches until smooth. Cook and stir over moderate heat until boiling and clear. Stir in 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, ¼ cup orange juice and 1 tablespoon butter or margarine.

VIMCO MACARONI SPAGHETTI-EGG NOODLES

Prepare This Fish Kettle

Ever tasted a really good fish-and-potato stew? One made with onions and tomatoes? Know what a perfect dish it is for Friday night supper?

You bring the stew, sending off puffs of fragrant steam, to the table and ladle out hearty helpings. You pass a crusty loaf of French or Italian bread, sliced and spread with butter, hot from the oven. Everyone sets to — lapping up the savory liquid and digging into the creamy fish and potatoes, and the onions.

You follow the stew with a tossed green salad. Then you end such simple but satisfactory eating pleasure with a substantial dessert — say deep-dish apple pie of sharp cheddar cheese. Or maybe you offer an upsidedown cake with a fine showing of glazed fruit.

The seasonings called for in the following recipe for fish stew are basic ones. But if you like adding your own particular creative touch to a dish, don't hesitate to improvise.

Go Portugese and add a pinch of ground cumin seed.

Take a hint from the French Bouillabaisse and throw in a leek, some parsley, maybe a pinch of fennel.

Want a Far Eastern touch? Then a little curry powder added will just suit you.

A rib or two of celery, a few carrots in the refrigerator? Slice them and add.

You favor basil in a dish with tomatoes? Go ahead and add it—with discretion.

Fresh chives available? Mince them and sprinkle over the stew just before serving. Or pass a small bowl of them so chive-addicts can help themselves.

Any firm white-meated fish available at your market is suitable for the stew. I like to make it with a fine fresh sea bass.

Fisherman's Stew

One whole fish (about 2 pounds)
2 cups water
1 pound potatoes (about 4-medium sized)
2 medium size onions (peeled and quartered)
one No. 2 can (1 pound and 4 ounces) tomatoes
1½ to 2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon ground thyme
1 bay leaf
2 large cloves garlic
dried mixed herbs or ketchup spice
chili powder or cayenne pepper

Havt fish dealer scale fish and cut away fins; then remove head and tail and cut fish in 4 pieces. Bring head home; do not have fish boned. Put head and water in saucepan; bring to a boil; let bubble gently for 20 minutes. Discard head and strain off liquid; there should be about 1½ cups. Put liquid, peeled potatoes, onions, tomatoes (including juice from can), salt, pepper to taste, sugar, paprika, thyme and bay leaf in kettle.

Crush garlic and add. Cook gently until potatoes are almost tender — 30 to 40 minutes. Taste liquid in kettle and add herbs or ketchup spice and chilli powder or cayenne to taste. Add fish and simmer until fish is opaque and cooked through — 10 minutes or longer. Serve in soup plates. Makes 4 servings.

BISCUIT-MIX COFFEE CAKE

1 egg
1-3 cup sugar
½ cup milk
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
1-3 cup firmly packed darkbrown sugar
2 tablespoons biscuit mix
½ cup coarsely broken walnuts
2 cups biscuit mix

Butter bottom and sides of cake pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches). Beat egg with rotary beater until it is lemon colored; add 1-3 cup sugar and beat until thick and ivory colored. Beat in milk and orange rind.

Melt 4 tablespoons butter in a small saucepan and add. In same saucepan melt 2 tablespoons of butter and mix with 1-3 cup brown sugar, 2 tablespoons biscuit mix and walnuts; reserve.

Now add 2 cups biscuit mix to egg mixture; beat until flour particles are moistened but not until smooth; batter will be lumpy. Turn into prepared pan. Sprinkle reserved nut topping over batter. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 20 minutes or until cake tester comes out clean. Cut in squares in pan and serve hot. Makes 8 servings.

QUICK CREAMED PEAS

One 10-ounce package frozen green peas
½ cup water
¼ teaspoon salt
milk
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon finely grated onion (pulp and juice)
freshly ground pepper

Put frozen peas, water and salt in saucepan 1½ quart is a good size. Bring quickly to a boil over high heat, breaking up peas as they thaw. Boil gently, covered, until just tender — 5 minutes.

With lid held over saucepan, drain water from peas into a measure; add enough milk to make 1 cup; return pea liquid and milk to peas in saucepan; heat. Mix butter and flour together with back of spoon until blended; add to saucepan. Stir constantly over moderate heat until thickened and bubbly. Add onion and pepper to taste.

CHEESE AN DDATE SANDWICH

One 3-ounce roll cheddar cheese
8 slices bread
16 pitted dates
butter or margarine

Spread cheese on four slices of bread. Slit dates with small sharp knife and flatten with fingers; place over cheese. Top with remaining slices of bread. Spread 1½ teaspoons softened butter on one side of each sandwich; place on hot griddle or in iron skillet.

Grill slowly until golden brown. Spread 1½ teaspoons softened butter over top of each sandwich; turn and grill until golden brown. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Pretty Up Your Meals

Toast Tulips made from slices of enriched yeast raised bread, brushed with melted butter or margarine, tucked into muffin cups and toasted in the oven, can be used many ways—from main-course accompaniments to desserts.

For a pretty main dish fill the Toast Tulips with cooked green peas, serve with a sauce of mayonnaise, lemon juice and minced parsley or dill; accompany with hamburgers. Other times fill the Toast Tulips with a well-seasoned cream sauce and hard-cooked eggs, diced meat or fish. Or with cooked leftover vegetables mixed together in a cheese sauce.

When we turned the Toast Tulips into Peach Custard Tarlets recently and served them for dessert, they met with real praise. The crunchy base is delicious with its coating of butter, sugar and cinnamon.

Toast Tulips

Roll a slice of bread with a rolling pin to ⅛ inch thickness. Trim away crusts with kitchen scissors. Brush both sides of bread slice with 1 tablespoon of melted butter or margarine. Set slices in muffin cups that are medium size — about 2¾ inches measured across top. With fingers, press center edges of bread toward middle to form tulip shape. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven until tips are lightyly browned — about 8 minutes.

Peach Custard Tartlets

8 slices white bread
½ cup butter or margarine (melted)
1-3 cup sugar
4 teaspoons cinnamon coconut-cream pudding
2 cups milk
4 small peaches (peeled and halved)
8 pecans

Make Toast Tulips as directe in recipe, brushing 8 slices bread with ½ cup melted butter and sprinkling both sides of bread with mixture of 1-3 cup sugar and 4 teaspoons cinnamon. Bake in oven as directed just before serving. Fill warm toast cups with chilled coconut cream pudding that has been made with 2 cups milk according to directions on package; use about ¼ cup pudding for each serving. Top each tartlet with ½ peach, a dab more of the pudding and a pecan.

SWISS STEAK

2½ pounds top sirloin (cut in one thick slice)
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons fat
2 medium size onions (cu tin thin strips)
1 bay leaf
two cans (10½ ounces each) tomato puree
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon chili powder

Cut away fat from outside of meat; melt and use as all or part of 2 tablespoons fat called for. Mix flour, salt and pepper together; pound it over surface of meat with a wooden potato masher or edge of heavy saucer. Heat fat in Dutch oven; brown meat well in it on both sides.

Place onions and bay leaf on meat. Mix tomato puree, sugar, mustard, Worcestershire and chili powder; add to kettle. Cover and simmer until meat is tender, 1½ to 2 hours. Makes 6 servings of meat plus about a cup of extra tomato sauce to use over hamburgers another day.

DANISH SPINACH

One 10 or 11-ounce package frozen chopped spinach
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
pepper
½ teaspoon sugar
nutmeg

Allow spinach to thaw on refrigerator shelf enough to break up easily. Stir butter and flour together in small bowl with a wooden spoon until completely blended. Place the spinach in heavy saucepan (about 1½ quarts); stir over moderate heat with long-handled fork until completely thawed and hot.

Add milk; when milk is very hot add blended butter-flour, salt, pepper to taste, sugar and nutmeg; a little less than 1-16 teaspoon nutmeg will be right. Stir constantly until sauce is thickened and bubbly; allow to bubble a few minutes to cook flour well. Makes 4 servings — a generous ½ cupful for each portion.

PEAR CRISP

¾cup flour
⅛ teaspoon salt
¾ cup brown sugar (firmly packed)
½ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup chopped walnuts
5 large firm pears (about 2 pounds)
½ teaspoon ginger
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
2 tablespoons orange juice

Mix flour, salt and sugar; cut in butter thoroughly with pastry blender; mix in walnuts. Peel, quarter and core pears; slice into buttered baking dish, about 6 by 10 by 1¾ inches. Sprinkle pears with ginger, orange rind and orange juice.

Cover with flour mixture. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven until pears are tender and top is lightly browned, about 45 minutes. Serve hot with pan juice. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CHOPS AND POTATOES

4 loin pork chops (about 1 inch thick)
salt
8 very thin slices lemon
4 medium sized sweet potatoes
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
4 teaspoons lemon juice
4 tablespoons dark brown sugar
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Heat large iron skillet until very hot; sprinkle lightly with salt. Trim chops of excess fat and place in skillet; brown well on both sides. Place a pork chop on a large square of heavy duty aluminum foil. Place two lemon slices on each chop. Peel sweet potatoes and cut each in half lengthwise.

Place two halves, cut side up, on each square of foil at side of each chop. Sprinkle potatoes lightly with salt, nutmeg, lemon rind, lemon juice and brown sugar; dot with butter. Bring two facing edges of foil up over chop and potatoes and seal together with tight double fold, drugstore fashion, turn ends up with double fold.

Place packages on large shallow pan (a jellyroll pan, 15½ by 10½ inches is a good size); bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven for 1 hour. Serve packages unopened on dinner plates. Makes 4 servings.

DATE-WALNUT PIE

2 cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup quick-cooked rice cereal
9-inch unbaked pastry shell
2 tablespoons soft butter
2 eggs (separated)
½ cup sugar
½ cup finely chopped walnuts
½ cup finely chopped dates
2 teaspoons grated orange rind

Heat milk and salt in top of double boiler over boiling water. Sprinkle in quick-cooking rice cereal and cook, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Cover and continue cooking for 10 minutes.

Cool slightly. Meanwhile prepare pastry shell. Blend together the butter, egg yolks and ¼ cup of the sugar. Add walnuts, dates and orange rind.

Combine with the slightly cooled cooked rice cereal. Beat egg whites until stiff, gradually beating in remaining ¼ cup sugar. Fold beaten whites into rice mixture. Pour into unbaked shell. Bake in moderately hot (375 degrees) oven until lightly browned, about 45 minutes. Serve warm.

Try Italian-Style Food

American cooks who like to serve Italian-style suppers will be interested in this quickly made cream-cake dessert. Ever taste Zuppa Inglese — that Italian sweet with its layers of rum-soaked sponge cake, custard filling and topping of whipped cream and candied fruit?

This cream cake is a relative of Zuppa Inglese; in typical American fashion it substitutes a special lemon syrup for the rum flavoring and uses an instand pudding mix for the custard filling.

Italian style coffee, for demi-tasse, is fine to serve with this cream cake. Italian coffeemakers—macchinettas—are widely available; but if you haven't one, ust the Italian double-roast type of coffee in an ordinary coffeemaker.

Italian Cream Cake

1¼ cups sugar
¾ cups boiling water
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1½ teaspoons aromatic bitters
½ package vanilla instant pudding mix
1 cup milk
two 8- or 9-inch sponge-cake layers
1 cup heavy cream (whipped)
sliced citron, candied cherries

Mix sugar and boiling water; stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved. Cover and boil 1 minute. Uncover and boil 5 minutes without stirring. Add lemon rind, lemon juice and bitters; cool. Add instant pudding to milk; mix according to package directions; chill. When ready to serve, place a sponge cake layer on serving dish. Drench with lemon syrup. Spread with vanilla pudding mixture. Cover with second sponge-cake layer. Sprinkle lightly with lemon syrup and top with whipping cream. (Any remaining syrup mas be passed with the dessert or stored in the refrigerator for later use.) Garnish with slices of citron and candied cherries. Makes 8 servings.

COTTAGE PUDDING

1½ cups sifted cake flour
1½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground mace
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
¾ cup sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and mace. Cream butter and sugar; beat in egg and lemon rind thoroughly. Stir in sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, beating just until smooth after each addition.

Bake in buttered pan (7 x 11 by 1½ inches) in moderate (375 degrees) oven about 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Makes 6 to 8 servings. Serve with Lemon Sauce.

A REPORT FROM THE MIDDLE EAST

Arabs Wooed By Communists

By LEON DENNEN

ISTANBUL, Turkey — (NEA) — In all of the Middle East's 2,000,000 square miles of strategic, oil rich land we have only two staunch friends, Turkey and Israel.

We may need them badly before this critical year is ended, for Russian agents are busy stirring dissension and revolt among 40,000,000 Arabs. Only a miracle can prevent an explosion this year.

I have just finished a survey of the area. In visits to Egypt, Cyprus, Israel, Lebanon, and Turkey, I talked with peasants, politicians, artists, business men, revolutionaries and high government officials.

This correspondent came away with these conclusions:

1. Revolt against feudal slavery, hunger, poverty and disease may come at any time. Social and economic unrest make the area especially vulnerable to Red propoganda.

2. Barring a drastic change in existing conditions, not a single Arab population would come to the aid of the West in the event of armed conflict with Russia.

3. Everywhere the consensus of qualified Middle Eastern observers was: The Soviet rulers —having sufferd a slight diplomatic setback in the West — are reparing a series of explosions in the Arab states.

THE TWO NOTABLE exceptions to this otherwise dark picture. Turkey and Israel, are pro-Western—certainly pro-U. S. Both Turkey and Israel have strong, well - trained and dependable armies ready to fight should the Reds attack. However, Turkey is in the midst of a serious economic crisis. The Turks also are strongly opposed to becoming involved in "Arab intrigues," despite their pact with Pakistan which in view of the State Department is to serve as corner stone for a Middle Eastern defense system.

Turkey has kept aloof from the sinister machinations of Arab politicians ever since Kemel Ataturk—the founder of modern Turkey — "turned his back on the Arab world." He called the Arabs the cause of "Turkey's misfortune."

ISRAEL IS IN A similar difficult situation with the Arabs. The youngest republic in history, Israel is indeed a modern miracle.

The leaders of Israel, in five short years, have succeeded in creating a disciplined pro-Western and industrialized state which could serve as a springboard for the development of the backward Middle Eastern areas.

The young state is clearly destimed to play an increasingly important role in the Middle East.

However, Israel is still surrounded by a wall of Arab hostility. The U.S. and the NATO powers—obviously in an effort to win over the Arab politicians—have as yet been unable or unwilling to help crack this wall.

It is difficult to realize the tense atmosphere which exists in the Holy Land — particularly along the illdefinedd frontier with Jordan.

MOST OF THE FRONTIER settlements are garrisoned by companies of young Israeli boys and girls and at night the whole area looks like an outpost in the last war, with houses barricaded and sentries posted.

Arab raids are countered by swiftstriking Jewish patrols.

In the spectacular development of Israel the army thus plays a far greater part than is usual in a modern industrial country — especially in a young and tiny country. The reason for this is clear: the citizens of Israel have always at the back of their minds the threat of another Arab offensive.

The Arab economic blockade is virtually strangling the young state. The ordinary Israeli — literally fighting with its back to the Mediterranean Sea — is particularly bitter at the U.S. decision to send arms to the Arab states. He is convinced that the arms will eventually be used not to fight the Reds but to attack Israel.

Resettlement of the 900,000 Arab refugees camping on Israel's borders and peace between Israel and the Arab states is what the U.S. will have to strive for in 1955 — if if the Middle East is not to be a fortile field for Red propoganda.

Every day new attempts are made by the Kremlin to cement economic and cultural ties between Russia and the Arab states.

SOVIET MOSLEM pilgrims recently went to Mecca and Red trade organizations sent exhibits to fairs in Izmir, Turkey, and Damascus, Syria. In return, delegations from all Arab countries, including for the first time Saudi Arabia and Yemen, attended Moscow's agricultural exhibition.

Agents are especially active in Syria and Lebanon. The only official Pravda correspondent in the Middle East, Barzenko, is stationed at Damascus. Syrian and Lebanese delegates attended last year's Red "peace" congresses at Budapest and Vienna, where most Syrian deputies signed a Communist-sponsored peace petition.

This activity undoubtedly accounts for the fact no Arab state has accepted a U.S. bid to join in a Middle East military alliance.

Questions, Answers On Social Security

The following are typical questions and answers to social security problems, furnished by Social Security Field Representatives Robert P. King and John Welker at the Salem Postoffice.

Q — I am past age 72, and am now eligible to receive my Social Security benfits even though I continue to work. Will these payments start automatically or will I have to file for thm?

A — In no case are social security payments made unlss they have been claimed. It will be necessary for you to file a formal application.

Q — I understand the new Social Security law permits me to draw social security payments until I have earned more than $1,200. Does this mean I can collect social security until I have earned $1,200 and then have my checks stopped for the balance of the year?

A — No. If you expect to earn more than $1,200 this year, you should notify the Social Security Administration of that fact now. One month's payment will not be due you for each $80 or fraction of $80 by which total earnings exceed $1,200. However, regardless of total annual earnings, you may be entitled to receive payments for months in which you neither earn wages of more than $80 nor engage in self-employment.

Q — I received social security for a few months in 1951. I returned to work in December of that year and since have received no payments. I am past 72. Will my payments be resumed automatically?

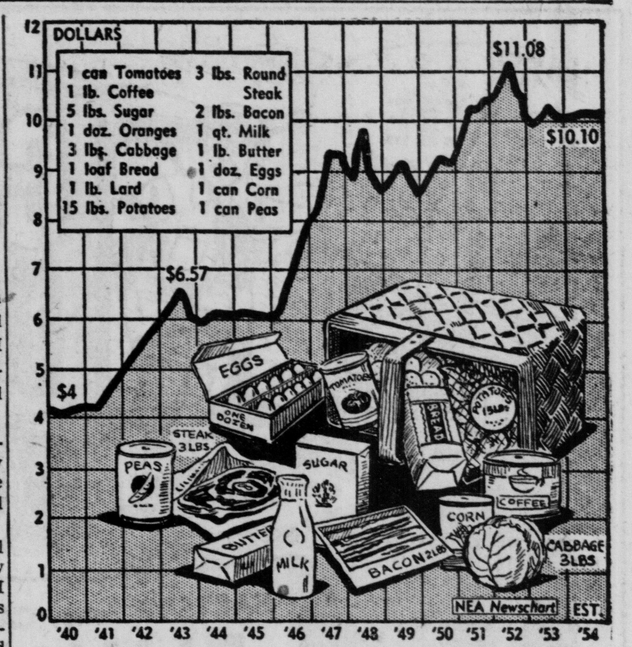
A — Yes. In fact, you have probably already received a form asking for a verification of your old address or a correction if you have moved since you last received a social security check. This should be completed and returned promptly to the Social Security Administration office from which it was sent.

Q — Since I returned to work in 1952 after receiving Social Security payments for a few months, my earnings have been substantially higher. Will the benefits I will now receive (I am 72) take these higher earnings into account?

A — Workers who have once had the amount of their social security payment established but who have since returned to work for a long enough period at substantially higher earnings may be able to have their payments refigured to reflect these higher earnings. However, this is not done automatically. It is necessary for the individual to file an application for recomputation of his benefit amount.

Q — I have a part-time job and also have a small business. In figuring my total earnings for the $1,200 retirement test will my earnings from these sources be considered separately, or will they be combined?

A — The retirement test specifies "total" earnings. Therefore, to determine whether your annual earnings exceed $1,200, any net earnings from self-employment will be added to your gross wages from employment.



MARKET BASKET'S STILL EXPENSIVE — The cost of the market basket during 1954 was about $10.10. Above Newschart traces the cost of the average market basket from 1940 to the present. High point for the period was August, 1952, when it cost the shopper $11.08 for the items listed; low point was mid-1940, when the same basket cost the shopper $4.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Only time can tell if 1955 is to be the year of "peace, prosperity and progress." But one thing it is certain to be—the year of pickets.

Victor Riesel

not just the old - fashioned strike pickets, either. True, they will carry placards. But these will be signs of the new times and the new powers of picketing with which labor leaders are swinging into 1955.

In the past few months, little attention has been paid nationally to a series of court decisions which will enable labor to unloose new types of campaigns.

One of these decisions gave unions the power to picket forever stores or plants in which they have no members. Another victory gave labor the right to picket a store in which none of the workers wants to join the union. Still another court gave unions the right to picket stores and plants not only for members and wages but to "educate" the public.

UNIONS CAN now picket an establishment in which the owner has refused to require his workers to join a union. And they can picket places in which another union has signed up all the workers.

Let me go into the most recent of these. The AFL Bakers Union, represented by Herman E. Cooper—Mr. Labor Lawyer of 1955—won a decision in a U.S. District Court which gives the union the power to picket in front of a plant or store where another union has been signed as the bargaining agent for the workers.

The bakers won the right to say on their signs that the union in the plant has lower wages and worse working conditions than the Bakers Local 50 which was doing the picketing. This means that the local, or any other union, now has the power to send pickets to the front of a store and say that certain products on the shelves are not union made or are made by another union which has lower wage standards. This is "educational picketing.'

In turn, this means that while the pickets are not specifically saying that the place is on strike and are not urging you to pass by the store, there still is an "educational' picket line which will cut into the business of the proprietor. And he probably will hasten to unload his shelves of the product which is being picketed, since he doesn't want pickets of any kind in front of his doors cutting into business.

THIS, IN EFFECT, will be picketing the product, even in a union store. Union officials already are referring to this as picketing to "educate the consumer." No strike, mind you. They just want you to know what not to buy. It's legal from now on.

Another decision, also won by Cooper, permitted one of his clients, the Motion Picture Operators Local 306, to picket a movie house in which the two projectionists had joined another union. In other words, you can now picket a firm whose employes don't want your union but want another. It's legal picketing just so long as you say specifically on your signs what it is you are picketing for. At least in New York State.

Another decision by the New York Court of Appeals ruled that there is no limit to the length of time a union can picket an employer while attempting to sign up his workers who don't want to join up. A small liquor store was picketed by the AFL liquor union for two years. None of its three employes wanted to join. The boss got an injunction removing the pickets. The union appealed — and was upheld. The pickets continued.

Thus organizational picketing is made legal and can go on forever, even in front of retail stores. At least 10 other such cases were affected by this ruling.

THE COURT SAID that so long as the picketing was peaceful it could roll on and on. This and the bakers' "educational" picketing come under the right to freedom of speech — the unions can say what they want on the picket signs, in effect.

Labor leaders everywhere are planning to use these decisions to organize workers.

Still another vital decision came from the U. S. Supreme Court which ruled that an employer must bargain with a union chosen by his workers in a labor board election —even if the workers change their mind right after the board election and don't want any union. This ruling involved the AFL's Machinists in Van Nuys, Calif.

Thus, from coast to coast, except in the 17 states in which picketing is especially regulated by the "right to work laws,", the unions have wide new powers to post pickets even if there is no strike, or even if another union already has taken over.

And labor plans to use that power in '55.

WHERE REDS MAY BLAST OUT NEW SEA—Shaded area is a rough approximation of the area where, according to reports from western diplomats, the Russians may be planning to use nuclear explosions to blast out a new Central Asian sea. Such a sea would make the winters and summers milder in Siberia and provide needed irrigation. Russian scientists have revealed that they hope to be able to reverse the northward flow of the Ob and Yenisei rivers to provide water for the new sea basin. The Aral sea would be the basin for the project, which would include the area between Kirghiz steppe and Kazah mountains toward city of Tobolsk, according to reports.

'Little Black Dress' One Of Top Fashions

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Nttie Rosenstein, famous for the "little black dress," features it as one of the most important fashions for spring, 1955, in her current preview for the nation's fashion press.

Mrs. Rosenstein, who has been turning out clothes for American women for a generation, says she believes simplicity is the theme of the era, and the two most important costumes any woman can have are the "little dress" and the meticulously tailored suit. She shows both, in profusion and in understated good taste, adapting the new long lines to her own knowledge of the needs of U. S. women.

The "little dress" is shown not only in black, but also in navy, prints and neutral tones, and does credit to its designer. It is a dress that is simple enough not to look overdressed in any gathering, but effective enough to hold its own among the most elaborate fashions.

Suits reach a new high in smooth, functional flattery in the collections of Davidow, famous for tweeds, and Arthur Jablow, master of the dressup suit. Davidow's featherweight imported tweeds are subtle symphonies of color, cut on the long, lean lines so important in the spring picture. Jackets are longer, skirts are slim and tailoring is skillful and effective.

Jablow shows a relaxed silhouette featuring eased waistlines, longer jackets, narrower shoulders and a tubular look. His collection of weatherwise lightweight fabrics include pure Italian silks, chiffon sheer worsteds and mixtures of silk and cashmere.
